Estimates for Cleaning of Streets and

THE BUILDING INSPECTOR'S NEEDS

Other Local Departments and Funds Wanted to Run Them.

INTERESTING LOCAL ITEMS

In the annual estimates of the superintendent of street and alley cleaning an appropriation of $203,969 is asked for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898. Of this sum, $179,560 is for the cost of the work, while $24,400 is for salaries. Following is a detailed list of the estimates: For sprinkling, sweeping and cleaning improved streets and avenues, $120,000; sprinkling and cleaning improved alleys, $14,000; cleaning unimproved streets and alleys, $30,000; hand-cleaning Pennsylvania avenue and other streets, $7,700; laborers on public dumps, $4,225; inspectors' horses, eight in all, $2,504; livery, superintendent's horse, $240; contingent expenses, $900. In explaining his estimates the superin tendent savs:

It is necessary to a correct understanding that I explain to you the foregoing items, and why I ask an increase in some cases, particularly as the total sum estimated for largely exceeds the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1897. I respectfully ask that you will compare the foregoing esti-mate for 1898 with the estimate of cost of work for 1897, submitted to you under date of June 18 last, as it will render as-sistance in determining the necessity for the increase asked for. I wish to say in based on present contract prices as far as possible, and have been made on a basis of 300 working days, except street cleaning (improved streets), and have been made as closely as possible. For the last two years we have had about $85,000 for sprinkling. sweeping, &c., the improved streets and avenues of the city, but usually before the close of the year emergencies have arisen that reduced what we supposed was available to about $83,000.

As will be observed, I ask for $120,000 for improved streets, the cause of such demand being that if we only do the same amount of work in 1898 that we did in 1896 and will probably do in 1897, that by reason of expiration of present contract June 30, 1897, no matter who does the work, contractor or municipal authorities, it will cost one-fourth, or about $21,000, more by reason of the eight-hour law affecting the labor required, which law did not go into effect until after present contract was made, thus allowing present contractor to work his force ten hours per day. Further, there is about 750,000 square yards of street surface that can now be swept but once a week. This area should be swept at least twice per week and would cost $10,000 addi-Again, there are numerous urban and suburban streets that should be thoroughly sprinkled for at least 150 days in the year to keep down the intolerable dust. I estimate can be done for about $2,-It will, therefore, be readily seen that the three causes of increase of estimates. amounting as they do to $37,000, added to the $83,000, makes the $120,000 I have asked for to properly sweep, sprinkle and clean the streets and avenues (improved) of the

For this work I ask an increase of about $2,000 over and above the amount deemed necessary to carry us through the present fiscal year. The reason for the same is that new alleys are being constantly added to the list for cleaning. Also, we will probably be called upon to clean improved alleys outside of the city limits which are not Unimproved Streets and Alleys.

It will be seen by comparing the estimates of cost for this class of work as made for 1897 that I have increased the item $11,000. To account for such increase I wish to say that the work is now being done for $68.85 per day under contract, exclusive of cost of inspection. There are employed on this work six gangs of eight men and two horses and carts each. Occasionally extra men and carts furnished at $1 and 1.50 per day respectively are employed. Referring to the cleaning of Pennsylvania avenue and other streets by hand, he says:
"I increase this item over the probable cost for 1897 by $1,650. This I do for the reason that I believe the system of hand cleaning as done at present should be gradually extended. I therefore propose to add, if appropriation warrants, 9th street west from B street north to G street north and F street north from 7th street west to 15th street west to present list. The cost of this additional work I base on existing contract, which is as low as it can be done.' Health Office Estimates. The estimates of the health officer for the proper conduct of his department during the next fiscal year have been submitted to the Commissioners. In all he asks for an appropriation of $222,920. This is an increase of $114,000 over the current approoriation. The new estimates provide for two additional clerks at $1,200 each, who shall act as sanitary and food inspectors. Four additional sanitary and food inspectors are estimated for at $300 each, who shall also supervise the collection of garbage and dead animals. An engineer at $300 for duty at the Smallpox Hospital is asked and a clerk is recommended, who shall be a physician and act as chief of inspectors and deputy health officer at $1,800 per an num. One sanitary and food inspector to assist chemist at $600 per annum is another new item. An increase of $5,000 is asked in the department for the prevention and spread of scarlet fever and diphtheria, naking an appropriation recommended of $11,000. An estimate is included for the establishment and maintenance of a bacteriological laboratory at $5,000. An item is included for the disposal of general refuse, which is reckoned at $15,000. This was recommended last year. For the purchase of a hospital for contagious diseases an appropriation of $50,000 is urged, and an appropriation of $25,000 for the erection and maintenance of a hospital for the treatment of scarlet fever and diphtheria is also urgently recommended. A small increase is asked for contingent expenses.

Building Inspector's Estimates. The annual estimates of Building Inspector Brady were submitted to the Commissioners today. They are as follows: Building Department.

Salaries, &c .- Inspector of buildings, $2,400; chief clerk and architect, $1,600; one assistant inspector of buildings, $1,200; three assistant inspectors of buildings, one of whom shall be inspector of elevators. $3,000; clerk, $900; messenger, $480; contingent expenses, books, blanks, stationery. livery of horse and repairing to carriage.

Continuing he says: I renew my request of last year that the number of inspectors be increased to seven, and that their salaries be made

Also that one additional clerk, at $1,200, be provided. The necessity for this addi-tional force is urgent, because of the con-stantly increasing amount of work of a miscellaneous character, that this department must attend to. With it the administration of this office would be more effectual, and the community would be better satisfied with the prompt service this could render with such a changed condition.

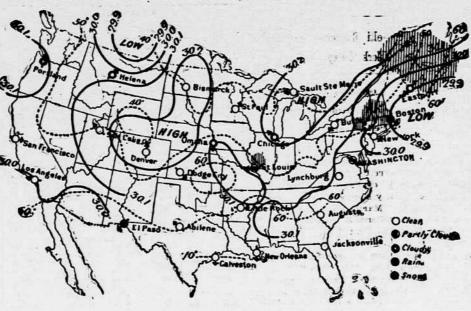

With an increased force of assistants they could be assigned to supervise the con-struction of the new buildings annually erected by the District, and thus save the expense now incurred by the employment

It is cooler generally throughout the northern states, except in the lower Missouri valley, where the temperature has risen slightly.

One engineer..... $900 One janitor..... 700 Two elevator operators ($360 each)..... Six laborers ($1.50 per day,1,878 days). 2,817 I again recommend that the salary of the engineer be increased $200; that the labor he now performs is more than was exacted in the old building formerly occupied for the District offices. In addition to the heating plant, the building we now occupy is equipped with two elevators, and the machinery attached to those must be given constant attention to avoid accidents.

Repairs to Buildings.

Public school buildings and grounds.$50,000 Police stations...... 3,500 Fire engine houses...... 4,500 Market houses...... 700 Police Court..... Interior District office building...... 1,000 The current appropriations for the several buildings are not sufficient to comply with the demands that are made to place them in proper condition. Each year the number of buildings is increased, but the amount estimated for their proper care has not been allowed. The wear and tear that our buildings are subjected to is such as to demand prompt attention to neutralize, and when repairs are denied by want of money the cost of restoration becomes greater. Therefore, I hope that the estimates sub-mitted will receive your indorsement for favorable consideration.

NATIONAL GUARD.

Members Entitled to Pay When Properly Ordered Out.

Mr. Bowers, acting controller of the treasury, has made a decision which is of pecuniary interest to members of the District National Guard who are in the employ of the government. It is in effect that they are entitled to leave of absence with pay when properly ordered out for annual parade, regardless of the purpose of such parade, whether for rifle practice, inspection or other military purpose. The decision is based on a question raised by the public printer "Whether the employes of this (his) office who are members of the National Guard of the District of Columbia are entitled to compensation for the time they are absent under the followsued by the commanding officer of the National Guard: 'The annual parade of the troops of the National Guard will take place as follows. • • Government employes will be given certificates for one day of duty performed under the requirements of this order.' " In his response quiry, the acting controller said: "As section 49 of the act of March 1, 1889 (25 Stat., 779), specifically provides that employes of the United States shall be allowed leave of absence without loss of pay or time on all days of any parade or encampment under lawful authority, I have the honor to ad-vise you that employes absent in obedience to the above-quoted order for an annual parade are entitled to leave without loss of pay on furnishing a proper certificate that the duty has been performed."

MONEY NOT STOLEN.

It Had Disappeared, but Was in Safe Keeping.

This morning, when a report was circulated that a $1,200 robbery had been committed at the house of Mr. Brice, 408 Rhode Island avenue northwest, Lieut, Gessford hurried two officers to the house to make an investigation. But when the officers reached the house the excitement had subsided, for the missing money had been found where it was not lost.

Mr. Brice, the owner of the money, is ill He is unconscious, and his end is soon expected. The sick man is nearly seventy years old, and his young wife knowing he had the amount mentioned in the house only a few days ago, made an investigation this morning to see whether or not the money was safe. And when she discovered no longer its place of keeping she became excited, and naturally suspected that ourglars had been about, The loss of so much money, just at this particular time, meant a great deal of trouble for her, and as soon as she commenced making inquiries and telling of the supposed loss the whole neighborhood enew of her troubles.

But when the police reached the house the money had been restored to the young wife. The husband had given it to a married son for safe keeping during his illness and had neglected to tell his wife of what he had done before he became unconscious. When the son heard of his stepmother's trouble he was very much surprised to learn that she did not know that he had the money, and he promptly turned it over

SELF-DEFENSE.

Palmer Not Held for the Killing of The grand jury this afternoon ignored the charge made against John Palmer of murdering Ollie Sloane, the 22d of last August, and Judge Cole ordered that Palmer be released from custody, also Guy Bethel, who was held as a government witness

It appeared that the men, negroes, hecame involved in a quarrel over a sweater near Maryland avenue and 4½ street the night of the day in question, when Palmer shot Sloane, almost instantly killing him. Early next morning Palmer surrendered himself to the police authorities. He had a bullet wound in his face, and frankly admitted killing Sloane. But he insisted that he fired in self-defense, showing his wound in corroboration, and the grand jury, after examining a number of witnesses conexamining a number of witnesses, con-cluded that Palmer had told the truth, and attorney's fee and for trip to Wheeling, therefore refused to indict him.

The indications are that the weather will be generally fair, possibly preceded by light local showers today in New England and the Ohio valley.

Reduced Rates on Railroads Will Augment

Join in a General Decoration of Buildings.

Chairman Levi P. Wright of the executive committee has been advised that the various railroad lines have authorized a rate based on one fare for the round trip instead of a fare and one-third on the certificate plan, which was heretofore the best rate named. Tickets are to be sold, and will be good coming to this city on the 12th, 13th and 14th, and will be good returning until the 25th, inclusive. This action on the part of the railroads will largely increase the attendance, and a good representation from every encampment in the country is now confidently expected. It is believed that not less than six thousand members of the order, with an equal number of ladies and visitors, will be present at the reunion. The added third in excess of one fare had served to discourage many from making preparations to come, but with this barrier removed the attendance will doubtless be general.

L. D. Wine, chairman of the committee on decorations for the Union Veteran Legion encampment, has sent the follow-ing letter to the members of his committee. Forty-one piominent gentlemen comprise the membership of the committee, being Messrs. Frederick Gheen, B. F. Whiteside

"As you have been previously informed, you are a member of the committee on dec-orations on the occasion of the visit of the Union Veteran Legion to our city. They will be here on the 14th, 15th and 16th of the current month.

"All good citizens take a pride in having our city look its best when our friends from a distance visit us, and it is particu-larly desirable to have it look so on this occasion. ARRIVED HOME.

The Girl Who Was Lost for Thirteen

Lillian Zenobia Daly, the colored girl who was abducted from here thirteen years ago, when she was but five years old, and who was located in San Francisco a short time ago, as published exclusively in The Star, reached here about 3 o'clock this afternoon, and was met at the Baltimore and Ohio depot by Lawyer R.S. Smith, who has taken so active an interest in the case, and her two aunts; daughters of Mrs. Rachael Moore, her grandmother.

As published in The Star some time ago, the child was taken from here by Emma Swann and carried out west. All these years the girl's mother has been searching the country for her, and now her health is very much impaired. She is now in Boston, but will probably soon return ome to see her daughter. Mrs. Moore, the grandmother, was not able to send for the girl, and she hardly knew how she could get her home. But Major Crowley, chief of police of San Fraccisco, had the authorities send her as far as Chicago, and he paid her way from that city to her home. ... There was great rejoicing in the home of the grandmother when the girl reached there, and she was treated even more kirdly than the average prodigal son. To Show Cause.
